NUMB. 1533

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15. 1740.

1633.

To Mr. FREEMAN.

I return you our hearty Thanks for inserting Mr. Meantwell's Letter in the Gazetteer, and beg you will give the following a Place in your next, which will oblige us, who are Freeholders of Wiltsshire, and hearty in the Interest of King George, and his Kingdom of Great Britain, and,

S I R, Your Humble Servants,
A. B. C. D. &c. &c.

Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Wilts.

THE St. James's Evening Post of Saturday the 16th August is the following Advertisement.

Devises in Wilts, August 11, 1740.

The Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders at their meeting here not being unanimous, it is agreed, that there shall be a Second Meeting at the Angel Marlborough, on the 17th Day of October next, the First Day of the General Quarter-Sessions held there, and then to pitch upon Two Gentlemen in the King's and Country Interest. In the mean time the Freeholders are desir'd not to engage themselves. By this Paragraph Gentlemen may see, withstanding a formal Notification in the Gloucester Journal some Time before that intended Meeting that the Two PEERS and Freeholders then assembled were not unanimous in their Choice. There is nothing laid at present with relation to the cities of those Two Gentlemen then recommended, their being both young, and it may reasonably be supposed not very conversant in the Affairs of this County. I think their being recommended as Persons to support the Country Interest ONLY, is such a gross Distinction, and at a Time too when the King and Country's Interest should be at Heart, and thoroughly supported by every honest Briton, that I am a Loss to guess what those Persons have in view, of late, upon all Occasions, usher in that Distinction of being in the Country Interest; unless it be, their calling to mind that it was the Country which shortened the Royal Martyr by the these Gentlemen would but seriously reflect on the dismal Scene, in the Days of their Forefathers, would shudder at the Thoughts of separating ancestors, which brought so much Destruction and ruin upon them, and which must inevitably bring in Ruin on Us, and (at present) this happy Nation. Believe me, Gentlemen, this is candidly offer'd for your cool Considerations, by Sept. 10, Your Well wisher, and A FREEHOLDER OF WILTS.

Saturday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, with the following Manifesto by the King of Prussia, declaring his intentions for using Reprisals against the Prince and Bishop of Liege.

His Majesty the King of Prussia being provok'd to the last Degree by the Ill-Conduct of the Prince and Bishop of Liege, is sorry to find himself under a Necessity of having Recourse to Arms for the Vengeance and Injury intended him by the Bishop.

His Majesty is so averse both by Principle and natural Disposition to every thing that favours in the Way of Rigour and Severity, that this Resolution was form'd without infinite Reluctance.

In finding himself forc'd by the Prince of Liege to use Violence, he could do no less than support the Exercise of his Rights, and revenge the Indignity of the Treatment of his Minister Creyzen, as well as the Contempt with which the Prince of Liege has treated His Majesty's Letter in not vouchsafing so much as to answer it.

As too much Severity borders upon Cruelty, so on the other hand, excessive Moderation participates too much of Weakness, therefore, tho' the King willingly sacrifices his Interests to the Publick Repose and Tranquillity, he could not take the same Freedom with his Honour; and this is the principal Motive which has determin'd him to form a Resolution so contrary to his Inclination.

All gentle Methods for an amicable Accommodation have been try'd in vain. On the contrary 'tis visible that the King's Moderation has but render'd this Prince more arrogant, that his Majesty's Good-nature has only fed his Pride, and in short, that instead of gaining by his Goodness, he is only become liable to Vexation and Contempt.

Having therefore no other Way to obtain it but to do himself Justice, and the King being powerful enough to procure it, he will make the Prince of Liege sensible how much he has been in the wrong so basely to abuse his Moderation; tho' notwithstanding such Ill-Conduct on his Part, the King will not be inflexible; desiring nothing more than to convince him that he can punish him, and that he is too generous to crush him.

Done at Wezel, Sept. 11. 1740.

Wezel, Sept. 17. N.S. The King of Prussia has caus'd some Troops to march into the County of Horn, who are to remain there till it pleases the Prince of Liege to hearken to Reason, and to consent to a just and equitable Accommodation; they consist of 1400 Grenadiers and 500 Dragoons, under the Command of Major General Baron de Borek; they have some Artillery with them, and a great Quantity of Ammunition and Provisions, and will be supported in case of Need by some other Detachments, who have Orders to be ready to march upon the first Notice.

Cleves, Sept. 17. N.S. On the 14th, when the King set out from Mo-yland Castle, he had a slight Touch of a Fever, which is imputed to his extraordinary Application to Business, and 'tis very much fear'd that his Health will suffer by the great Pains he takes.
Mean time his Majesty's Attention to state Affairs does not hinder his Cultivation of the Sciences. He has carry'd M. de Maupertuis, who came from Paris, to Berlin. The Marquis Algarotti is also return'd with the King, who is very bountiful to these two learned Men. M. de Voltaire has likewise been here, for whom the King sent a Courier to Brussels. His Majesty has given him the most distinguish'd Proofs of his Esteem for him. The last time he had the Honour to sup with the King, his Majesty made him a Present of a Plate, Knife, Fork and Spoon, all of Gold, which he had made use of himself, and gave him also his Picture adorn'd with Diamonds.

Petersburgh, Aug. 30. N.S. Two Days ago Te-Deum was sung in all the Churches, and there was a Discharge of 100 Cannon, for the Princess of Brunswick's Delivery of a Prince, who was baptiz'd Yesterday by the Name of Ivan, the Czarina being his Godmother; who invited all the Archbishops and Bishops who were in Town to be present at the Ceremony, together with the Privy-Counsellors, Chief Generals, and others of the Nobility, together with their Spous-als, who were all admitted to kiss her Hand. The Hereditary Prince of Courland and General Munich are return'd from their Journey to Finland sooner than was expected.

Vienna, Sept. 7. N.S. On the 3d Instant, when the Turkish Ambassador had his first Publick Audience of the Emperor, he stay'd Half an Hour in the Anti-Chamber, not only to refresh himself but to put on his Turban of Ceremony, and to range the Presents in order that were design'd for the Emperor; during which his Cloaths were perfum'd with fragrant Essences. He enter'd the Hall of Audience with 13 Persons of his Retinue, and approaching the Throne on which the Emperor sat, under a magnificent Can-opy, he made his Speech in the Turkish Language, to which the Emperor's Vice-Chancellor answer'd in Latin; and after this the Ambassador's Presents were brought in, which consisted of fine Tapistry of Turkey and Persia, some very rich Stuffs, a very fine Tent, &c. The Empress was in a Gallery that look'd into the Room, from whence she could see the whole Ceremony thro' the Lattice. The Emperor has resolv'd to disband 9 Regiments, viz. 6 of Foot, 1 of Dragoons, and 2 of Hussars. Three Companies of each of the Regiments of Foot which are to be left standing are to be broke, and two of each of the Regiments of Horse.

We hear by an Express from Constantinople, that the Emperor's Ambassador made his Publick Entry there on the 10th of August, with extraordinary Splendour.

Madrid, Aug. 29. N.S. The Court has Advice from Cadix, that some Masters of Ships arriv'd there met the Ferrol Squadron off of the Canary Islands; and that such was the Alarm at Cadix, upon the Report of Admiral Norris's intended Expedition, that several Families were retir'd into the Country with their best Effects. Upon Advice that the said Admiral was just ready to put to Sea with a numerous Squadron, 16 Regiments that had their Quarters in Old Castile are sent to Biscay, and others are on the March for the Coasts of Andalusia. Great Preparations are making for the Siege of Gibraltar, which 'tis not expected however will be undertaken this Year.
